

Salyer Lake

By Kathy Mark

Salyer Lake in Binger, Oklahoma, is not the first summer choice for many, but Bill and I love the area and the people there. Ken and Elizabeth do all they can to make our stay there great and they are successful. During our stay Bill helped Ken with a new building, helped prep roads for blacktop, drainage for a new patio for outside dining, irrigation for lawns and many other things. The new building is a 110 bed dorm and the bunkbeds were made by Ken and Bill and a team of workers.

Kathy worked on flowers in pots around the Landing and some housekeeping and helped in the dining hall at events.

We enjoyed fishing, paddle boats, grilling outside, and enjoying the quiet peacefulness.

If any ROAMER is looking for a camp where new buildings are going up and want to be a part of that, Salyer Lake is one place to consider working.
