

Adrian Camp and Conference Center

By Ruth Kile

A lot has been accomplished recently by a number of ROAMers who have been working at the Adrian camp in Georgia.

Fred Langmaid arrived in January, and he did many projects around the grounds. He repaired sheetrock in the ceiling of the Snack Shack, installed fresh batteries in smoke detectors in several buildings, installed new outdoor wall sconces, and worked many hours fabricating new clothesline racks for the dorms.

Ed and Ruth Kile and Randall Johnson arrived in February. Ed and Ruth painted, installed new wall plugs and conduit, and repaired a water-damaged wall. Randall gutted and renovated the office restroom and installed a hot water heater for that room.

Frances and Bruce Hoffman arrived for March, and the entire group is working on cleaning and continued repair work, preparing for the camp's first event which will take place at the end of the month.

For fun, the group traveled together to Savannah, Georgia, and took a trolley tour of Old Town, eating lunch at Paula Deen's "The Lady and Sons Restaurant." A great outing!

Hosts Jeff and Peggy Croft have welcomed them warmly, and it is a pleasure to work with them.
